Ms. Brenda Dutra Franco, 28, Brazil

Lawyer and researcher currently working as a Project Manager at the Brazilian Olympic Committee, where she leads a programme on governance, ethics, and transparency among sports organisations. Previously, as Anti-Corruption Programme Coordinator at the UN Global Compact Network Brazil, she led Anti-Corruption Collective Action initiatives across the energy, agribusiness, and construction sectors, promoting business integrity. Brenda holds a Bachelor's and a Master's degree in Law from the Federal University of Juiz de Fora (UFJF) and is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Anti-Corruption Compliance and Collective Action at the International Anti-Corruption Academy (IACA). As a researcher, she analyses integrity programmes and ESG reports, supporting organisations in strengthening ethical cultures and mitigating risks. Brenda believes young people are uniquely positioned to drive systemic change and is committed to empowering the next generation to become agents of integrity.
