Ms. Eva Eya Yolène Ardin, 26, France / Tunisia

Living across different regions of the world has shaped Eva's passion for equality and integrity. Her Master's degree in Criminal Financial Law and Compliance at the University of Paris-Nanterre deepened her understanding of these issues. Her diverse background including working with the French NGO PEMM in Laos on medical training and water supply, volunteering in South Africa with orphans and in Peru with an animal shelter, as well as living in Tunisia, England and France has shaped her awareness of the global challenges posed by corruption. She also did an internship at the European Anti-Fraud Office (OLAF) which reinforced her conviction that institutional integrity is essential for public trust and to promote a shift towards a fairer society. Driven by these experiences, she is now commited to improve the public trust and social equality through youth empowerment and open-minded collaboration.
