Ms. Fundile Nkala, 29, Zimbabwe

Fundile Nkala is a Zimbabwean educator, Southern African Youth Parliamentarian, policy researcher and civic strategist working on ethical governance, inclusive education, youth leadership, and public-sector accountability. She was named an Integrity Icon by Accountability Lab Zimbabwe for public service beyond her civil service duties. Her research spans multilingualism, anti-corruption, public policy, and digital transformation, with work selected for platforms including the Interdisciplinary Corruption Research Forum (Germany), the British Council's Sub-Saharan Africa Conference (Kenya), the Anti-Corruption Academic Symposium (Qatar), and the AfroTellers Conference (Kenya). A published creative author and founder of Childhood Games for Peace in Bulawayo, she uses research, advocacy, and community action to build inclusive, accountable societies. She is pursuing a Master's in Public Administration in Indonesia, focusing on public-sector automation and AI in public service.
