Ms. Rosemary Tregenza, 25, Spain / Australia

Rosemary Tregenza is a proponent of youth-led and youth-based educational programmes, and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). She has served as a programme coordinator and project officer at MUN Impact, a youth-led organisation promoting the SDGs through Model UN. Rosemary holds a Master's degree in Conflict Transformation and Social Justice, from Queen's University Belfast, and a degree in Security Studies from Leiden University. She previously spent a year at a Cypriot humanitarian organization contributing to human rights programmes within shelters for unaccompanied minors. Parallel to her professional career, Rosemary is a keen athlete, most recently spending a year on an Olympic Development Pathway. Rosemary brings over five years of expertise in youth-led and youth-based projects. With a background and passion for social justice, Rosemary is committed to creating positive change and empowering communities, through local, youth-led projects.
