Ms. Shanzeh Rehman, 25, Pakistan

Shanzeh Rehman is a development professional and policy researcher working at the intersection of governance, gender equity, and inclusive development. As a youth and women rights activist, she believes corruption and weak institutions disproportionately affect women and young people, deepening barriers faced by those with less power and access to resources. She works with the Government of Pakistan and UNICEF to shape inclusive policies and development programmes that advance equity, accountability, and integrity. She has represented Pakistan on multiple international forums including CoSP11. Shanzeh holds a BS in International Relations from the National Defence University, Pakistan, and has founded EmpowerHer, an initiative supporting women affected by gender-based violence through safe spaces and pathways to economic empowerment, and previously led Project Maktab, a grassroots education initiative serving Afghan refugee children in underserved communities.
