Mr. Tiany Sampilahy Heriniavo, 24, Madagascar

Tiany Sampilahy Heriniavo is the first representative of Madagascar on the UNODC YouthLED Integrity Advisory Board, a developer and founder building civic technology for transparency, accountability and youth safety. He built Talily, a legal-literacy platform against corruption in natural resource management (2nd place, Hackathon for Legal Literacy, with WWF, TRAFFIC International and Transparency International Madagascar Initiative), and MyID, a secure digital ID system to reduce fraud in public services (2nd place, Prototypeo, World Bank). He founded SafeSpace, a youth digital safety initiative ranked 2nd worldwide in the Digital Harm category of the USAID Youth Well Being Prize Competition. He works on AI risk advocacy at an international NGO and was elected Local Vice-President 2027 of JCI Antananarivo. He holds an MSc in Big Data and AI from ESTIA, France. Tiany believes young people can do more than resist corruption: they can build the future they deserve.
